

DONNERSBERG EMMA

Emma Donnersberg was born in Paris. She moved to the United States and attended Tulane University in New Orleans, obtaining a Bachelor of Arts degree. She then earned an Associate's degree in interior architecture from Parsons School of Design in New York, before beginning her international design career working at Christie's in their New York and Paris offices. She then launched in 2008 her own agency in Manhattan, E. Donnersberg Interiors, and continues to work with residential and commercial clients on both continents. Emma Donnersberg approaches design as if she were painting a blank canvas, using spatial organization and an array of colors and textures to generate the highest level of luxury. Emma's aesthetics has developed through her countless worldwide travels and each design project includes unique aspects of her Asian, American, Eastern and European experiences. Her specific style has now come to include the conception of unique object designs.
