

LAHIDJI ROXANE

Roxane Lahidji is a designer and artist specializing in natural material research, developments, and applications. Her research focuses on conciliating sculptural productions with sustainability.

Roxane was born in Paris in 1992 and grew up in the French capital before studying illustration and product design in Strasbourg (HEAR). During this time of her life, she accumulated experiences working for high-end luxury brands such as Chanel. After graduating from the Social Design department of Design Academy Eindhoven in 2017, Roxane Lahidji developed her project "Marbled salts". In 2018 and 2022, She was awarded among the 100 best French international designers by FD100 price of the VIA. She also received the 2019 Bolia award. Nowadays, she develops new projects and partnerships in Zaventem Ateliers in Belgium.

In June 2022, the "Joga" low-table entered the permanent collections of the Musée des Arts décoratifs in Paris.
